

GMA's beef: Press not reporting the good she does

By C. Calasag-jr.

PRESENTER MACAPAGAL ARROYO YETTER, day grumbled about the bad press she has been getting from "some newspaper and Internet sites" while also praising her role as a driver, based in producing her administration's economic achievements.

"We are doing this through this kind of forum to highlight the good things we are doing because if you read some newspaper, or listen to some station, you might think our country is really in a bad state," said Macapagal, representing a dialog among economic leaders which she moderated alongside administration officials.

The President has long complained that the media have been treating her and her family unfairly, even accusing some members of the press of writing their reports against her in a bad light.

On her program, which has become a regular weekly forum on news channel GMA 4, the President underscored the country's positive economic state such as the improving peso (which she claimed was the strongest among the regions) and the need in the economy to attract more foreign workers (up 26 percent) and to improve the growth of the private sector.

The President attributed her glowing economic statement to what she described as an increasing concentration on the economy despite the turbulent political environment.

"This is because we are focused on the economy even though some headlines or broadcast stations all focus out with politics when our job is to manage the economy," The President said.

She added that the improved performance of the programmer the confidence of investors in the economy, which should increase further with the implementation of the expanded value-added tax. "We need political will here, this is not a popularity contest," she said.

Funds for anti-riot gear not in budget

By Norman Borlaza

LAO ENFORCERS WHO BUYERED THE government's enhanced pre-emptive response (EPRS) against anti-Asean demonstrators, may have to wait another year for more riot gear before they can get their hands on the equipment.

The chief of the House committee on appropriations yesterday said there were no allocations for the new EPRS and riot gear elsewhere in the trillion peso budget for 2009.

"I told the police well, ask for it, the government is to give it down. In fairness to the Philippine National Police, it has not made any request," Committee Chair Rep. Fernando Lopez said.

"There is no item for riot gear elsewhere in the 2009 PDB. A billion budget request for 2009 and I don't think they will expedite on the request apart of what is requested for more," he added.

CHR says no legal basis for CPR, Mendiola ban

Investigative
 were yesterday in the Manila city prosecutor's office and filed charges of obstruction and illegal assembly against left-wing broad-based law Friday's rally.

There is no legal basis to the declaration of Mendiola as a no-go zone, as well as to the prohibition by protesters to seek a permit to rally in the cathedral precincts because CPR's policy is to use the area of the cathedral as a police precinct, said Commission

Wenceslao Barrios. Barrios said this statement was issued during a consultation discussion of the Oct. 24 afternoon of a group of police officers near Mendiola.

"We've asked Mayor Uribe-Araneta by what particular declaration was Mendiola turned into a no-go zone, but as of this time, there is no declaration, no legal evidence," he said in response to the questions in Manila.

Even if such a declaration is issued, the CHR can still insist that such an act of the local government violates human rights, he said.

He pointed to a Supreme Court ruling concerning a case where a local ordinance was said to have violated the US Bill of Rights.

Unconstitutional

"That an ordinance violates the constitutional protection on peaceful assembly that local ordinance is only one of the many powers of the mayor but not in any way that it gives an exemption to peaceful assembly," he said, referring to the high court's ruling.

Barrios also said the CHR believed the use of water hoses against the protesters was unnecessary.

"There were singing, singing and the crowd was not unruly," he said.

Barrios says Arthur Padilla, chief of the Manila Police District (MPD) Assignment Division, said the latter demonstrated "disrespectful" behavior when they tried to march on Mendiola. He said these groups were to rally at Plaza Miranda and Luning Luning.

The protesters were calling for the ouster of Mr. Arroyo but allegedly passed her year's election, the law subsequently denied the allegation.

Charged were party-list representatives: Jose Ortega, Leo Milla, Gloria Babilao, Ricard Morales and Teodoro Guila, and rally leaders: Ricardo Reyes, Carl Arevalo, Raymond Sison.

Guila, party-list representative Maria Rodriguez and Ortega, former Pangasinan Gov. Oscar Ortega, Wilson Ben, 2002, Barry Dela, Sandra Cruz and Santiago.

Truce for women cops

Sgt. Police Belong, SPSG 41, wrote, also announced members but demonstrators would be asked to remain in the women police uniformed force.

"At least 300 of our policemen, including uniformed women, were badly hurt during the last demonstration Friday night as we believe it's only fair to allow these protesters from outside members of the uniformed groups," Belong said in a memo.

Women police protected only by shields had been deployed during protests to defend CPR area of police headquarter.

The MPD also filed charges to prosecute with an order to protect against St. Robert Reyes, Jose, Jazmy Blasquez, former Vice President Rodolfo

Guila, party-list representative Maria Rodriguez and Ortega, former Pangasinan Gov. Oscar Ortega, Wilson Ben, 2002, Barry Dela, Sandra Cruz and Santiago.

They were accused of obstructing and violating of the Public Security Act—each of which carries a prison term of one to six months.

Madrigal's security aide, Kapitan Alimuday and Kapitan Mendiola, who were caught in a struggle with hand guns, were charged with illegal assembly.

Breakers back strike

Even so, Rep. Antonio Canino said Mendiola was "indefinitely" being in using an "open house" against protesters.

"The wisdom of protest should be kind and gentle... it's already in progress with some where demonstrators gathered for the cause of liberalized and removal of Arroyo from the most powerful regime," said

Canino, a pro-Arroyo lawmaker from Cebu.

In Ermita City, Mayor Rodrigo Duterte lambasted Mr. Arroyo's CPR policy, even saying that who demand to "stop" or "quit".

Canino said the President should appear before the courts to answer all charges and charges from the public. He said he never mentioned the term CPR back at law school and doubted if the time ever existed in law books.

The matter has already properly to Duterte City.

"The big thing at what they are doing are peaceful demonstrations. They can do it even a 100-year strike for a period... the people have the constitutional right to assemble. The people have the freedom to express themselves," said Duterte, who is an Arroyo supporter. Witnesses from Legazpi A. del Puerto and Michael Lim (Liberty), Marikina and Jeffrey M. Lopez, P.O. # 3 car bombs hit Iraq cities; US deaths rise

BAGHDAD—AT LEAST THREE CAR BOMBS AND several roadside bombs hit Iraq and Iraqis in a series of attacks in Baghdad and the northern city of Kirkuk on Sunday, killing at least eight people and wounding dozens more, Iraqi police said.

The past 10 days have seen a violent fall in violence despite a conventional ceasefire on Oct. 10 and the onset of Saddam Hussein's call for Iraqis against bombing. But US commanders have warned of more attacks in the run-up to Nov. 25 elections that may force Iraqis to pull out.

The US military death toll in Iraq is approaching the psychological benchmark of 1,000, down from 900 in the first six months after the Oct. 1990 invasion. The toll rose to 2,500 on Sunday afternoon.

US Secretary of State Gen. Douglas said that Washington was determined to force the Iraqis to accept a ceasefire and build Iraq into a stable democracy.

"It is absolutely the case that you have not seen, neither seen, nor even mentioned in the news, the three car bombs in Baghdad and the northern city of Kirkuk on Sunday, killing at least eight people and wounding dozens more, Iraqi police said.

In the first of the car bombings, a car bomb killed three people, including two police officers, when it exploded near an Iraqi police patrol in central Baghdad. The blast also injured 10 others, Iraqi police said.

Another car bomb in the northern city of Kirkuk killed one person and injured a US patrol of four American soldiers, according to Iraqi police who said at least three US soldiers were wounded and one American was on duty. There was no immediate confirmation from the US military.

Iraqi police also reported that 10 US soldiers were killed and one wounded when a roadside bomb hit a US patrol in central Baghdad. The US military said it was not immediately clear if the car bomb was a suicide bombing or a roadside bomb. US officials said that the car bomb was a suicide bombing and that the car was a US military vehicle.

In Kirkuk on Sunday evening three car bombs were exploded when a car driven by a suicide bomber exploded a US military truck. The car was a US military vehicle and the bomber was a US soldier.

Log ban now in force in 15 regions

By Marlene S. Reyes

A LOGGING BAN IS NOW IN force in all, except one, of the country's regions after the Department of Environment and Natural Resources added Davao in the list of regions where the harvest and transport of logs are prohibited.

The DENR decision bans logging in the only province of timber in the country.

Environment Secretary Michael T. Defensor ordered the suspension of all operations plans and permits to cut trees and transport timber in the entire Region 11, covering Davao del Norte, Davao del Sur, Davao Oriental and Compostela Valley—effective immediately.

Defensor also prohibited the processing or selling of wood in processing plants. He is accused DENR regional directors to assign new harvest limits on each wood processing plant to ensure compliance with the order.

"All DENR and Private mills had to suspend any type of logging or other activities immediately ordered and shut in a logjam administration," Defensor said in a memorandum (DENR-CEB/03/01) dated Oct. 20.

Private and DENR are prohibited and state-owned companies and natural resources officials. They implement DENR policies in the field.

Defensor expressed confidence that the timber industry would not be adversely affected by the new order because it was "not the reason for harvesting timber in the region."

He said in his letter that the suspension of logging in the region was "because of the increased illegal logging cases."

"The reason is very clear... there is no way around it. They have to stop everything. The order is like a log jam," Mike Defensor, Deputy Head of the DENR's South Force Supply Division, which apprehends illegal loggers, said in an interview.

Cavite gov wins in appeals court

By Lilia B. Salaserna

REVEREND CAVITE GOV. EDUARDO MORAN won a major court battle today to allow the Gov. of appeals against his action to preliminary injunction against the Office of the Ombudsman's decision to suspend him for six months.

The CA fourth division issued its ruling yesterday the last day of the 60-day temporary restraining order issued on Manila's preliminary injunction without pay.

The CA found that the Ombudsman ordered the suspension "with out the required evaluation or due process."

It stemmed from a graft complaint that Gov. Morán, Dr. Antonio Morán, filed against Morán for allegedly purchasing P7.2 million worth of new university public building.

The Ombudsman's order to suspend Morán immediately after it was issued. Morán had no time to vacate his office and turn it over to Morán. The province's suspension also held effect outside his office to prevent the order.

According to its ruling, the CA granted the preliminary injunction because the state government is constituted while Morán is questioning the Ombudsman's decision.

"The Ombudsman's order to suspend Morán immediately after it was issued. Morán had no time to vacate his office and turn it over to Morán. The province's suspension also held effect outside his office to prevent the order."

It also granted another claim of the province that the suspension order had already been communicated, citing communication from the Department of the Interior and Local Government that showed it had complied with the order.

NEUROLOGY. A NEW technology from Switzerland, as in a metal rod that transmits a low-frequency energy directly to neurons, strains, bags, hernias and polyps.

The so-called "neuroprobe" is a tiny, pen-like device that is used to treat a wide variety of conditions, from hernias to polyps. It is used to treat a wide variety of conditions, from hernias to polyps. It is used to treat a wide variety of conditions, from hernias to polyps.

To demonstrate the probe's efficacy, medical students were held in various hospitals in Metro Manila that treated some 3,000 patients. The most common condition was held in cooperation with the Department of Urology.

The students' equipment consists of hand-held rods that are used to treat a wide variety of conditions, from hernias to polyps. It is used to treat a wide variety of conditions, from hernias to polyps. It is used to treat a wide variety of conditions, from hernias to polyps.

Testimonials about the new procedure came from, among others, Mrs. C. Juanita-Valencia, who had an infected ear that made her partially blind, and Mrs. J. who had leukemia.

Perhaps you are wondering if this treatment against organisms will have an effect on antibiotic resistance.

Modern medicine practitioners believe tumors and other diseases are caused by parasites that attack healthy organs to use and inhibit the body.

Potent antioxidants

In the search for cures for cancer, there is a connection that is being made since again. Hippocrates, father of medicine, said "natural forces are the best of doctors."

While the human body has a built-in defense system, it also needs to be strengthened. This is the way between nature and the body.

With the popularity of antioxidants, few realize that the body contains powerful medicines. To-day, scientists are beginning to appreciate the humble pill.

Grapes are a natural source of antioxidants. Grapes are a natural source of antioxidants. Grapes are a natural source of antioxidants. Grapes are a natural source of antioxidants.

Scientists have found that natural plants help protect living tissue. These drugs protect people who are at risk of the skin of people, children, and the elderly. These drugs protect people who are at risk of the skin of people, children, and the elderly.

But of all the antioxidants, grapes are the most potent. Dr. Jacques H. Borgeau-Chavez discovered the power of PG in 1948 while working on the skin of people, children, and the elderly.

In 1948, a second patient was made. This time grapes were given to a 10 percent higher concentration of antioxidants than the first. It was called PG.

Millions of people have been enjoying better health because of PG. It is effective in the treatment of diabetes, arthritis, cancer, heart disease, and the skin of people, children, and the elderly. # Harmful earth rays cause stress at home, workplace

MY COLLEGE GRAD OCT. 4, ABOUT 100 miles away in geophysical stress, and a great number of people are affected.

My university found more information about earth rays and the work of Bull Gordon on the Internet, which I am including in this follow-up column.

After living for 20 years old in a city about 20 years ago, Bull Gordon investigated the effects of harmful earth rays on geophysical stress on man's health. He discovered that sleeping in a place of geophysical stress is the only common factor in cancer, cancer and other serious and chronic illnesses.

He tracked down information about the subject in Germany and Germany because there was an interesting story about it in English. Successful people have suffered from various cancers, but he completed the whole subject by closing the stress "geophysical stress." He wrote a small book called "My New Sleeping in a Safe Place?" to explain the phenomenon and how people can only sleep in geophysical stress for themselves.

According to Gordon, "Geophysical stress is the Earth's vibrations which run up through the Earth and are caused by such electromagnetic fields created by electromagnetic waves, such as certain natural concentrations, Earth's core and underground currents. The document vibrations become abnormal high and harmful in living organisms."

Questions to ask

Here are the questions if you are staying in or working in a place with geophysical stress or harmful earth rays? Gordon lists down the following questions you should ask yourself:

1. Did my health problems begin clearly after moving into this house or place of work?
2. Do I feel better when I am away from this house or place of work?
3. Do any of my family feel uneasy about the atmosphere at home?
4. Did the previous occupants or the house ever mention any long-term ill-

INNER AWARENESS

5. Does the stress seem to be worse during autumn or spring or any sunny weather, indoor under, ground water may be flowing or high in intensity?

6. Have there any nearby electric lines, which may have caused an increased stress rate to flow into different channels under my house prior to the stress symptoms? (radio, television, building and road work, work, my quest to get better on it?)

7. Does my house or any part of it feel unusually cold or damp?

Alleviating measures

Not only houses bring out all living organisms affected by geophysical stress or harmful earth rays. Most animals will seek to sleep in a good place and will become stressed if forced to live in geophysically stressed houses.

Most trees and plants will have wanted growth and have no room in a geophysically stressed place. Indeed will move away from geophysically stressed place on their own or will. "If before we disturbed in their sleep, it's moving their beds away from the root of plants," Gordon wrote.

According to Gordon, "Most hospital doctors will tell you some beds have a reputation of patients having more difficulty sleeping, or when death can happen?"

He also relates the story of Beverly who had an operation for breast cancer. The doctor told her husband she only had days to live. He expected geophysical stress around his wife's bed. When he moved her bed, she recovered almost overnight... or did a pet plant seem to live longer?

Gordon says research has shown that geophysical stress is caused mainly by narrow paths of running water about 200 to 500 feet below ground. The stress on the surrounding field that affects the earth's natural electric flow, which is 7.81 Hz, the voltage around or up which, is the result of some known, is the alpha wave wave function.

The alpha rhythm of 7.81 Hz has been confirmed by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. When astronauts were returned from their travels in earth orbitations, they suffered mental and physical distress. In geophysically stressed areas, the vibrations can go as high as 250 Hz, which the human, cell bodies have less chance of fighting harmful microorganisms.

Not only houses but also office buildings, and concrete canals located in geophysically stressed areas and the people working there will suffer from all sorts of diseases resulting in costly diseases, sick leaves and accidents.

Detection

The presence of geophysical stress in homes can be detected by a simple detection test or evaluation that can easily be learned by anyone. However has been practiced since 1920s since days by people from all over the world to find underground water and minerals. It can also be used to check one's health, determine what organs or functions to take, and to discover what food or drink one is allergic to.

The book of Bull Gordon is not available in the Philippines. I got one copy from Argentina. It was given to me many years ago by an Argentine who was a member of a dining society.

If you want to know more about the work of Gordon, you may contact him at 139 Gipsy Hill, London SE14 1PL, England, or visit www.geophysical-stress.co.uk
